The screenshot shows the WavBlocks Studio interface. At the top is a header bar with the text "WavBlocks Studio". Below the header is a large black rectangular area containing a blue audio waveform. A vertical red line is positioned at the beginning of the waveform, and a green mouse cursor is hovering over it. Below the waveform is a large white rectangular area with a green square button containing a white plus sign in the top-left corner. To the right of this area is a vertical scrollbar. Below the white area is a "Plugin Bank" section. It contains four square buttons labeled "Reverb", "Delay", "Filter", and "Pitch". To the right of these buttons is a plus sign and the text "Link New Effect". At the bottom of the interface is a horizontal scrollbar.

WavBlocks Studio

The screenshot shows the WavBlocks Studio interface. At the top, there's a title bar 'WavBlocks Studio'. Below it is a large audio waveform. A red vertical line marks the start of a sample, and a yellow vertical line marks the end. A green 'End' block is being placed at the yellow line. A mouse cursor is pointing at the 'End' block. Below the waveform is a large empty area with a green plus icon in the top left corner. At the bottom, there's a 'Plugin Bank' section with four slots labeled 'Reverb', 'Delay', 'Filter', and 'Pitch'. To the right of these slots is a plus icon and the text 'Link New Effect'. A progress bar is visible at the very bottom.
